Tools to Increase Colon Cancer Screening

by Emily Butler, WA DoH Cancer Screening Coach

March is Colon Cancer Awareness Month, which is a great time to educate clients about the importance of colon (colorectal) cancer screening. Only 66 percent of Washingtonians aged 50-75 have been screened or are up to date with recommended screening. This March let's work together to increase the number of patients screened for colon cancer in Washington State.

Finding tools to increase the number of patients screened in your clinic is now easier than ever. I invite you to visit the Department's new online resource, the Colon Cancer Screening Resources web page for providers (<http://www.doh.wa.gov/PublicHealthandHealthcareProviders/HealthcareProfessionalsandFacilities/ProfessionalResources/ColonCancerScreeningResources.aspx>). Visit the landing page to see a highlighted list of key tools, or visit the Colon Cancer Screening Provider Toolbox (<http://www.doh.wa.gov/Portals/1/Documents/Pubs/342-093-ColonCancerScreeningProviderToolbox.pdf>) for an in-depth look at evidence-based interventions. Read about the strategies that have worked in other clinics, and adapt to your practice.

Finally, be sure to take a look at the new educational materials we've created to assist you in reminding clients to get screened (<http://www.doh.wa.gov/PublicHealthandHealthcareProviders/PublicHealthSystemResourcesandServices/LocalHealthResourcesandTools/BreastCervicalandColonHealth/PublicEducationandRecruitment/MIYOMaterials.aspx>). You can download these materials today, or learn how to use the website MIYO (Make It Your Own) to create custom, culturally appropriate materials in English and Spanish. Choose from over 300 messages and 275 photos to create your own flyers, postcards, inserts, brochures, posters, question cards and text messages.

A recommendation from a healthcare provider is the number one factor that influences a patient's decision to get screened for colon cancer. Even if you already make a practice of recommending screening, the strategies found on these web pages can help you improve your ability to identify and screen more patients.

I encourage you to pick a couple of strategies to remind clients about the importance of colon cancer screening this March. Scheduling 10 minutes to share these tools with your clinic in a staff meeting in early March is a great start. For assistance in selecting a couple of easy-to-implement strategies to increase colon cancer screening in your clinic, contact me at Emily.Butler@doh.wa.gov or 253-395-6729.

The U.S. Preventive Services Task Force recommends colorectal cancer screening for men and women aged 50 to 75 using FIT, high-sensitivity guaiac-based FOBT, sigmoidoscopy or colonoscopy.

Are IUDs A Pain In The Os?

Bob Smithing

Maddy Wiley, MSN, ARNP, FAANP & Bob Smithing, MSN, ARNP, FAANP are doing a study to answer the question of what if anything helps reduce discomfort and what doesn't help with IUD insertions. We are collecting data using questionnaires without any change in the current practice of the inserting clinician. We are looking to gather data on those who have never been pregnant, those who recently gave birth, and those who gave birth over a year ago. We're looking for clinicians who use anesthesia (either paracervical blocks or endometrial instillation of lidocaine) and those who don't.

We have a goal of gathering data on 100-200 IUD insertions for analysis. We are reaching out to our colleagues to invite you to join us in the data gathering.

The data collection packet contains an informed consent form for the patient to read, a consent to sign, 2 short questionnaires for the patient to complete and a quick 1 page questionnaire for the clinician to do. The entire pack is then either faxed or mailed back to our office.

We're inviting you and any of your colleagues that would like to participate in collecting the data. We plan on submitting the study for publication but anticipate informally sharing the results as they become available.

We are of course open to questions, comments and suggestions. Bob can be reached at rts@familycareofkent.com or via my cell at 253.852.7723. Please email or call if you are interested in participating!

Pictures, All Sorts of Pictures

ARNPs United of Washington State is looking for a few good pictures of ARNPs in action, working with clients, working with other health professionals or any creative images you can create. We'd like to use them on our display board, postcards and other material.

Technical stuff: There must be a model release for everyone in the photo. You can request a sample of a model release form from au@auws.org. Preferred file type .tif, .nef (or any raw file), .png, .psd, or other high-resolution file type. If the file is high quality .jpg, with no editing done, it could work. (Really we'll try any image!)

Please email images to Bob at rts@familycareofkent.com. If the files are large email Bob and we'll do a DropBox transfer. Scanned copies of the model release will be fine.

WSNA Call for Poster Abstracts

In preparation for its Biennial Convention May 1-3, WSNA is now seeking abstracts for poster presentations. If you have implemented a practice change that is improving patient outcomes or nursing practice, or if you have conducted research whose results you would like to share with your colleagues, please consider submitting an abstract. More than 500 nurses already are registered for Convention. The deadline for abstract submission is March 15. You can register online by clicking here. Please contact Robin Fleming at WSNA for more information. She can be reached at 206.575.7979 X-3058, or by e-mail at rfleming@wsna.org <http://www.rnconvention.com/Poster-Session/>

New Guideline on Prescribing Opioids to Treat Pain in Injured Workers

The guideline is effective July 1, 2013 and will replace the guideline for outpatient prescription of oral opioids for injured workers with chronic non-cancer pain and for outpatient prescription of controlled substances, Schedule II-IV, for workers.

The new guideline represents best practices and universal precautions necessary to safely and effectively prescribe opioids to treat chronic non-cancer pain in injured workers. You can review the new guideline on the L&I website at www.lni.wa.gov/ClaimsIns/Files/OMD/MedTreat/FINAL/OpioidGuideline010713.pdf.

A CR-101 (preproposal for rules) was also filed on January 2 and can be viewed at <http://www.lni.wa.gov/ClaimsIns/Rules/New/Proposed/Default.asp?RuleID=268>.

For policy questions, please contact Jaymie Mai, Pharmacy Manager, at 360-902-6792 or at Jaymie.Mai@Lni.wa.gov

Washington State to Introduce Health Homes

On July 1, Washington State will introduce Health Homes in the first phase of HealthPathWashington's forward-reaching Medicare-Medicaid initiatives.

Health Homes will provide citizens with serious or multiple chronic health conditions the opportunity to achieve better health care and outcomes. Created by the Affordable Care Act, Health Homes coordinate primary, acute, behavioral health and long-term care services.

They are intended to:

- Reduce avoidable health care costs
- Assist with transitions from care settings
- Provide referrals to community services and supports
- Promote wellness and improve health outcomes

HealthPathWashington is an initiative sponsored by the Aging and Disability Services Administration in the Department of Social and Health Services and the Health Care Authority. Health Home participation will be voluntary for clients and available to clients who are receiving services through a Managed Care Plan or a Medicaid Provider. An estimated 40 percent of Washington State's 115,000 citizens who are eligible for both Medicare and Medicaid are expected to enroll in Health Homes.
